Summary:

1. Bois Forte Tribal Code, Chapter XII, Domestic Violence.

The proposed Chapter XII, Domestic Violence, is written as a comprehensive code to:

- strengthen the Bois Forte Band criminal justice system and assist the Band in exercising “special domestic violence criminal jurisdiction” (SDVCJ),¹ to ensure that defendants who commit crimes of domestic violence and violations of protection orders are held accountable;
- incorporate changes in the Band’s criminal justice system to ensure victim safety, relating to law enforcement, prosecution, Tribal Court, probation system, detention, culturally appropriate victim services and assistance for their families and household members;
- provide indigent criminal defendants with the effective assistance of licensed defense counsel, at no cost to the defendant, in criminal proceedings in which the Band prosecutes a crime of domestic violence or a criminal violation of a protection order;

¹ On March 7, 2013, President Obama signed into law VAWA 2013, which recognizes the authority of participating tribes to exercise “special domestic violence criminal jurisdiction” (SDVCJ) over non-Indian or non-member defendants who commit crimes of domestic violence or violate certain protection orders within the Band’s jurisdiction. The Act permits enhanced sentencing in SDVCJ cases, but specifies the rights that a participating tribe must provide to defendants in such cases.

- ensure that, in criminal proceedings in which the Band exercises SDVCJ, jurors are summoned, selected, and instructed in a manner consistent with applicable requirements; and
- provide victims of domestic violence and violations of protection orders rights similar to the rights of a crime victim described in section 3771(a) of Title 18,² consistent with tribal law.

Subdivision 4. A written report of any such examination conducted in accordance with subdivision 3, above, shall be promptly returned to the court and copies shall be timely made available to the prosecutor and to the defendant or his counsel. Subdivision 6. If the results of said examination establish the defense set forth in subdivision 2, above, the court may order the trial continued until the defendant's condition no longer exists. If, after a period of three years from the time of such a continuance, the defendant still suffers from the same or similar condition the charges against the defendant shall be dismissed with prejudice.

Subdivision 7. If the results of the examination further establish that the defendant's mental condition giving rise to either of the defenses set forth above, and the safety of the defendant or the safety of others, requires the defendant being involuntarily placed in a treatment facility, the court in either event may order the defendant to be held in further custody until reasonable arrangements may be made to effectuate such placement. In any other event, the defendant shall be ordered released from custody.

Subdivision 8. A defendant who otherwise raises either of the defenses set forth in subdivision 1 or subdivision 2 above shall so inform the court and the prosecutor in writing before trial commences and shall have the burden of proving the same by a mere preponderance of the evidence.

BOIS FORTE TRIBAL CODE
DOMESTIC VIOLENCE
CHAPTER XII

Subchapter A. General Provisions.

Sec. 1200. Purpose.

The purpose of this Chapter is to recognize Domestic Violence as severe crimes against society, the Band, and the family, and to assure the victim of Domestic Violence the maximum protections from further abuse that the law, and those who enforce it, can provide. It is the intent of the Band's Reservation Tribal Council that the official response to Domestic Violence is to enforce the law to protect the victim and to hold the defendant accountable, which communicates the Band's policy that violent behavior against intimate partners is not excused or tolerated. Rather, the Band values and seeks to nurture nonviolence and respect within families. This Chapter shall be interpreted and applied to give it the broadest possible scope to give effect to its purpose.

Sec. 1201. General Jurisdiction.

The Band's criminal jurisdiction shall be exercised pursuant to Chapters V and VI of the Bois Forte Tribal Code, Crimes and Offenses. The Band has full civil regulatory and adjudicatory jurisdiction, as recognized and affirmed in 18 U.S.C. § 2265¹ and 25 U.S.C. § 1304², to issue and enforce civil protection orders involving any person, including the violation of such orders alleged to have occurred outside the boundaries of the Reservation where such orders are entitled to recognition outside the Reservation as a matter of full faith and credit.

² VAWA is codified at 25 U.S.C. § 1304 (recognizing tribes' "inherent power...to exercise special Domestic Violence jurisdiction over all persons"—including non-Indians).

Sec. 1202. Special Domestic Violence Jurisdiction

Subdivision 1. Special Domestic Violence jurisdiction. The Band hereby exercises “Special Domestic Violence criminal jurisdiction” as a “participating tribe,” as defined in 25 U.S.C. § 1304,³ in the Tribal Court.

Subdivision 2. Defendants. The Band hereby declares its Special Domestic Violence jurisdiction over any person only if he or she:

- (a) Has sufficient ties to the Band; or
- (b) Regardless of the defendant’s residence or place of employment, is a family or household member of:
 - (i) a member of the Band; or
 - (ii) a person who resides within the Band’s Reservation; or
- (c) Violates a no contact order or Domestic Violence protection order within the Band’s Reservation, regardless of whether the order was issued by the Tribal Court or another jurisdiction.

The Tribal Court may not exercise Special Domestic Violence criminal jurisdiction over an alleged offense if both the offender and the victim are non-Indians; however, no provision of this Chapter shall be interpreted to restrict a law enforcement officer’s duty to keep the peace or prohibit a law enforcement officer from detaining non-Indian offenders and turning them over to the proper authorities for prosecution.

Sec. 1203. Criminal Conduct Applicable.

The Band shall exercise its jurisdiction under this Chapter for criminal conducts that falls into one or more of the following categories:

Sec. 1205. Severability.

If any part, or parts, or the application of any part of this Chapter is held invalid, such holding shall not affect the validity of the remaining parts of this Chapter.

Sec. 1206. Nonwaiver of Sovereign Immunity.

Nothing in this Chapter shall be deemed to constitute a waiver of the Band's inherent sovereign authority and correlating immunity from suit for any reason whatsoever.

Sec. 1207. Savings.

- (a) Issue a written order for conditional release;

When any person is arrested for or charged with a crime of Domestic Violence, the Tribal Court may issue a no contact order prohibiting the defendant from having any contact with the victim, including a victim who is neither a family or household member and does not qualify for a Domestic Violence protection order, or the victim's dependents or other family and household members. Subdivision 2. Qualified application. A qualified application may be on a form created and provided by the Tribal Court or in another form. At a minimum, to be qualified, the form must identify the defendant, allege that the applicant is in danger of abuse from the respondent and/or has been the victim of abuse committed by the respondent, and describe the nature of the abuse and the approximate dates of the abuse.

Subdivision 3. Hearing scheduled. Upon receipt of the application, the Tribal Court shall order a hearing to be held within fourteen (14) days of the date the application was filed unless extended pursuant to Subd. 4 of this Section.

Service of the application and the order establishing the date of the hearing ordered pursuant to Subd. 3 of this Section shall be made upon the respondent at least seven (7) days prior to the scheduled hearing. Service shall be made by a law enforcement officer. If service cannot be made, the Tribal Court may set a new date for the hearing. Proof of service shall be filed with the Court after service is made and prior to the scheduled hearing date.

Subdivision 5. Relief. Upon showing of actual or imminent Domestic Violence, the Tribal Court may enter a protection order after due notice and a hearing. The relief provided by the Tribal Court may include any or all of the following:

If the Tribal Court finds that the safety of the victim or the children will be jeopardized by unsupervised or unrestricted parenting time, the Tribal Court shall condition or restrict parenting time as to time, place, duration, or supervision, or deny parenting time entirely, as needed to guard the safety of the victim and the children. A Domestic Violence protection order is not voided by the admittance of the defendant into the dwelling from which the defendant is excluded.

- (b) Subsequent orders and extensions. Upon application, notice to all parties and the Bois Forte Victim Services, and hearing, the Tribal Court may extend the relief granted in an existing Domestic Violence protection order or, if a victim's protection order is no longer in effect when an application for subsequent relief is made, grant a new Domestic Violence protection order. If a victim seeks only the relief under Section 1228 (ex parte order), a hearing is not required unless the Tribal Court declines to order the requested relief.

(i) The Tribal Court may extend the terms of an existing Domestic Violence protection order or, if an order is no longer in effect, grant a new order upon showing that:

- b. The defendant is reasonably in fear of physical harm from the defendant,
- c. The defendant has engaged in the act of stalking, or
- d. The defendant is incarcerated and about to be released, or has recently been release from incarceration.

(ii) A victim does not need to show that physical harm is imminent to obtain an extension or a subsequent order under this subdivision.

- (c) Modifying Domestic Violence Protection Order. Upon application, notice to all parties and the Bois Forte Victim Services, and hearing, the Tribal Court may modify the terms of an existing Domestic Violence protection order.

(i) If the defendant named in the Domestic Violence protection order is a habitual Domestic Violence offender, as defined in Section 1209(e), the defendant may request to have the order vacated or modified if the order has been in effect for at least five years and the respondent has not violated the order during that time. At the hearing, the defendant named in the Domestic Violence protection order has the burden of proving by a preponderance of the evidence that there has been a material change in circumstances and that the reasons upon which the Tribal Court relied in granting or extending the order no longer apply and are unlikely to occur. If the Tribal Court finds that the defendant has met the burden of proof, the Tribal Court may vacate or modify the order. If the Tribal Court finds that the defendant has not met the burden of proof, the Tribal Court shall deny the request and no request may be made to modify or vacate the order for protection until one year has elapsed from the date of denial.

(i) Before the Tribal Court may modify or vacate a Domestic Violence protection order at the request of the defendant, the defendant shall provide the Tribal Court with all pertinent documents, affidavits, compliance forms or any other information required by the Tribal Court.

(ii) Any Domestic Violence protection order modified under this paragraph subdivision must be personally served on the victim named in the order.

Subdivision 5. Service. Law enforcement shall promptly personally serve the respondent with a copy of the order along with a copy of the application and notice of the date set for the hearing. If the respondent cannot be personally served within seven (7) days of issuance of the temporary order, the Clerk of Court for the Tribal Court shall mail a copy of the order, return receipt requested, or deliver the temporary order, to the last known address of the respondent.

Proof of service shall be filed with the Tribal Court.

Subdivision 6. Notice to appropriate law enforcement agency. The Clerk of Court for the Tribal Court shall transmit a copy of each temporary protection order, or extension, modification, or termination thereof, by the close of the business day which the order was granted, to the law enforcement agency with jurisdiction over the residence of the applicant or over the residence at which the actual Domestic Violence, which is the subject of the temporary protection order, allegedly occurred or is likely to occur.

 - (xi) an inability to answer any of the above questions does not preclude the filing or enforcement of the foreign protection order.
- (g) The Clerk of Court shall provide the person entitled to protection with a copy bearing proof of filing with the Tribal Court.
 - (h) The Tribal Court judge shall review all foreign protection orders filed with the Tribal Court and, upon review, may order a hearing for the sole purpose of ascertaining the validity of the foreign protection order.
